

To the Organizers of the American French Film Festival,

On behalf of the 8th grade French and Films classes at Southeast Middle School in South Gate, California, we would like to extend our sincerest gratitude for the opportunity to attend this film festival.

The students had a great time watching the film and going to the Director's Guild. They felt so special being some of the first Americans to watch Le Comte de Monte-Cristo and they truly enjoyed the film. One of our students had a chance to ask the panel a question during the Q&A and some of our students had a chance to pose for a photo with the panelists after.

After the film, students were asked to share their favorite part and write a brief thank you note, as seen on the following pages.

We hope to join you all again next year for another incredible French film!

Sincerely,

Shannon Lipp
French Teacher at Southeast Middle School

My favorite part about the movie was when Edmond was happy at the beginning of the movie. This is because I don't like sad stuff.

my favorite part about the movie was when Edmund started to plan his escape. also when he meant abba because abba was really nice with him and helped him to get the fortune. also his whole escape gave prosperity and hope.

Just being in the theater my favorite part of the movie was when edmont was in the jail sail laying down. Another one was when he escaped the prision. the last one is when edmont got into a sword fight fernand

My favorite part of the movie was probably when he's like acting his revenge and starting to plan everything because it was kinda of cool to see how he planing and having such cool scenes

Seeing all the people and the enivorment. I liked the movie because it was interesting with the plans and the plot. The ending was great and the character development

My favorite part was when they 2v4d people. I liked it because they looked tuff

My favorite part of the movie was the actors and the scenes. I was very comfortable

my favorite part was when he got revenge and became rich

My favorite part was when he got revenge and became rich. I also liked the love story between haydes and Albert.

when the count and haydee and the other boy became a trio and had a plan

My favorite part was when the couple nearing the end ran away together after being allowed to run away. They were cute together.

Watching it and sitting in those in those comfortable chairs my favorite part was when Edmund ran away from the prison and escaped. this was because it made me believe that with hope you can do the impossible. Never giving up is one of the best lessons one can learn.

My favorite part of the movie was, when he escaped the jail when he was dead. And my other part was when he telled that a baby was in a cardboard box.

I dont really have a favorite part cause I liked the whole movie. It was interesting.

My favorite part was when Heydee and Albert fall in love. Also when they ran away.

My favorite part of the movie was when the count found all the gold. This is my favorite part because this was the beginning of his villain arc.

My favorite part was when Monte Cristo was in prison and was escaping. This was my favorite because it showed a cool montage and it showed how hard he worked to escape.

My favorite part of the movie was when the count and the guy with the eye patch fought each other. It was very cool.

My favorite part about the movie was when they were in the jail and he found someone and dug out.

My favorite part was when the main character literally went revenge mode or wtv. I js enjoyed the whole movie.

My favorite part of the movie was when Monte Cristo found the trasure

My favorite part was when Edmond was fighting the other guy

My favorite part of the movie was towards the middle of the movie. My reason was because it showed them making a plan and how they trained for their plans. It also showed how their plans would go around the same time they were planning.

My favorite part of the movie was when Edmond escaped prison from going into the body bag that his mentor was supposed to go in, as well as when Edmond became the Count of Monte Criste.
